Dennis,

For the Relinquishment of BLM Right of Way (ROW) UTU-53809 in March 2005 (Task # 2109), you recalculated the DBD permit acreage as 153.9 acres: removal of 3.05 for the ROW but correction to the size of the area of the sedimentation pond and associated road (based on initial faulty transference of surveyors notes to AutoCAD), for a total reduction of only 0.96 acre. 153.9 acres is the figure in the Legal and Financial Volume.

The disturbed area is, by my reckoning, 2.09 acres more than the 23.88 shown on the Division's inspection form, i.e., the 3.05-acre ROW was not in the disturbed area (reclamation of this area went to Emery County with the road transfer), so the 2.09-acre difference between the 3.05 acres removed for the ROW and the 0.96-acre final reduction means the disturbed acreage for the pond and road increased by 2.09 acres. Does 25.97 acres match your calculation of the DBD disturbed area?
